AWARD DETERMINATION

Awards for each category will be determined based on the highest SCI score. For deer and elk, awards will be given for both typical and non-typical entries (when needed).

The BOUCHARD, FROST-HOFFMAN and SPEEGLE SUMMIT AWARD winners will be determined based on a trophy's relative standing in the record books for its particular species. This standing is not the numerical ranking, but its percentile standing within its particular species. These percentiles will be calculated from the most up-to-date information available from the Trophy Records Department at SCI Headquarters, the Boone & Crockett Club "Records of North American Big Game," and/or the Pope & Young Club "Bowhunting Big Game Records of North America." Once a percentile standing is determined for each entry, that numeric percentile will be compared between all relevant different types of trophies. This method gives a fair, non-biased evaluation for all trophies.

The INTERNATIONAL AWARDS categories will also utilize percentile standings from the SCI Trophy Records Department as well as a factor for trophy desirability and difficulty of the hunt. The top 20 trophies in each of these categories, based on percentiles, will be submitted to a panel of chosen experts for their evaluation. The panel will not have access to the names of the hunters, only the species of animal, place where taken, method of take, SCI score and percentile standing for its species.

The winners of the GOLABCHI INTERNATIONAL SHEEP AWARD and DONALD COX INTERNATIONAL CAPRA AWARD will also be chosen by the International Trophy Awards Panel.

HOW TO ENTER

The preferred method for entry of a trophy is that an official measurer of SCI, using official SCI measuring forms, be engaged to certify the trophy. However, in a case where the B&C/P&Y method is parallel to the SCI method, an official measurer from either of those organizations may be used, and we will use the gross score for entry. (Moose, caribou and muskox do not have a parallel scoring method therefore must be submitted only on an official SCI score sheet.)

EXCEPTION: Any trophy entered that qualifies for a Top 20 ranking in the current SCI online record book REQUIRES a 60-day drying period. This is also required by the SCI record book. If the above requirements have already been met and the trophy is entered in the SCI online record book, it will NOT be necessary to submit another score sheet, as the information is readily available for us to retrieve from the current SCI online record book. We will still accept official B&C and P&Y scores as long as the 60-day drying period is observed.

Once a trophy has met the above requirements, we simply need field photos (two preferred, from different angles). All should be submitted to: Grand Slam Club/Ovis, P.O. Box 310727, Birmingham, AL 35231 OR email: gsco@wildsheep.org
